About the Careers Office
The Careers Office is one of the most active, dynamic and forward-looking departments of the International Hellenic University. Our role is to actively engage students to explore and pursue their career aspirations by providing a wide range of career related services.

Mission of the Careers Office
The Careers Office is committed to providing professional guidance, resources and access to employment opportunities to the diverse body of students and alumni. The office has adopted a student-centered philosophy according to which each student receives individual support for their every career concern.

What makes us different?
Following international practice, our office encourages students to become involved in their career development during their studies and not upon their completion. Career development is preparation for life, so the Careers Office makes sure that it offers students all means available to increase their employability and make informed career decisions. Early preparation can really make the difference! Don’t forget that success belongs to those who prepare well in advance...

Services for Students & Alumni

- One-to-one sessions for career advice and job information
  Book an individual appointment and receive tailored advice and guidance. The session lasts 45 minutes and a prior booking of appointment is required.

- CV Writing & Interview Workshops
  The Careers Office runs workshops that aim to assist students and graduates to identify their skills, attract potential employers and get ready for job interviews. To obtain such workshops, students get the opportunity to prepare their own personal marketing package, with guidance on CV & Cover letter preparation, interview skills and job-hunting strategies.

- Career Events
  The Careers Office organizes various career-related events in order to assist students with the problems and skills to solve their career decisions. Such events provide information regarding careers outside of academic, bring together students with professionals, companies and institutions and encourage networking between the two parts.

- Career Fair & On-Campus Recruitment Days
  The Career Fair is one of the top events for students and graduates to meet potential employers in person, to obtain an insight into the local and global job market, to gain useful experience and to find out more about potential employers and job opportunities. The Careers Office organizes annual Career Fairs while On-Campus Recruitment Days take place throughout the year.

- Job Search
  The Careers Office redirect students and alumni their job search by providing access to a number of employment and internship opportunities through a portal (www.careeroffice.ihu.edu.gr) and usage of CV database and new information on job opportunities in the Greek and international market.

- CV Database
  The Careers Office offers employers the ability to search for the right candidates to recruit through the Careers Office. If you are a student or alumni, don’t hesitate to send your updated CV for our CV database in order to match your profile with the employment opportunities that arise.

- Erasmus Exchange Programme
  Students may choose to carry out their practical training for a 3-month period in another EU country.

- Career Resources
  Visit our website www.careeroffice.ihu.edu.gr and gain access to career material such as sample CVs, Cover Letters, Interview Guides, Business Letters, interesting career articles, etc. For job search help visit the Business Gateway portal www.ihu.edu.gr/gateway/

- Career Brochures
  Looking for specific career information to read at home? Then pick up one of our leaflets covering the subject you require for you and prepare yourself! The topics covered so far are interview preparation & the job search abroad.

- Career Section in the Library
  If you are looking for more career material, then visit our career section in the library and check all the career books and other materials that can help you in career planning.

Despite your intensive study schedule, we suggest you get out of the time you spend at the International Hellenic University. Attend as many career events as possible and make use of the careers services, because they are a great way to:

- Meet potential employers that may offer you a job or an internship
- Learn more about careers related to your degree
- Gain first-hand knowledge and insight on certain industries
- Get your career questions answered by professionals
- Gain familiarity with the job market, the skills, the knowledge and experience employers seek
